

Parquet Panels

The exact replicas of flooring used in French châteaux. We offer panels of different sizes and thicknesses, massive wood or on a multi-layer, new or old wood, or with aged effect.

Classic oiled, waxed or polished and varnished are possible. We also propose a frosted finish to discover exclusively at Hexa Arts.

Dozens of models are available and of course we offer you to create your custom designs.

The panels fit together with tongue and groove and do not require special skills for installation.

Parquets from natural wood provide warm atmosphere and easy maintenance.

Traditional design parquet panels adapted to the current building requirements

- The traditional design is inspired by the great French castels. We offer tailored solutions for your projects.
- The original oak panels are 98 x 98 cm with a thickness of 22mm. It is possible to vary the size of panels to suit to the surface.
- The thickness can also be reduced in some cases for underfloor heating for example.
- Even perfectly dry wood remains a living material. The parts of the panels are assembled without glue. The panels are joined together with tongue and groove.
- Fast and easy nailed and glued laying are possible. To limit the impact of humidity and temperature changes we propose panels on a multi-layer.
- The traditional finishes are waxed and oiled or varnished. We offer exclusive finishes with a surprising frosted aspect.
- We use new or old wood. The surface may be smooth or with a hand made aged effect, which is a perfect compromise and offers excellent value for money compared to the real old wood.
